

Yep...

Anyone who knows me well enough knows with absolute certainty - I want what I want. I'm definitely not the most compromising person in the world. When it came time to publish my novel, Dead Angels Bleed, the art of compromise never entered into the equation. I specifically put this together because I want to offer a reader an unfiltered vision. Put simply, I want you to see what I saw when I wrote it. I don't care about marketing trends. I don't care what a large publisher feels will sell. I don't care about what a literary agent thinks is a hot genre. I care about giving some one who's interested in reading something something interesting to read.
